Getting there

Car

From Heraklion Airport:

From the airport, drive straight on towards the main road until you reach the exit for "Agios/Nicolaos - Heraklion, Chania, Rethymnon" (about 300 m further on). At the exit, take the road towards Rethymnon. You are now on the ring road around Heraklion. About 80 km further on, at the "Spili" sign, exit the ring road and continue on the main road towards Armeni/Spili/Plakias. Important: Do not drive into Rethymnon itself! About 10 km further on, you will travel through the village of Armeni. Continue past the Sellia turnoff (around 19 km further on) until you reach the "Plakias" sign (around 20.5 km further on). Here, turn to the right towards Plakias, pass through the village of Koxare, and drive through Kourtaliotiko Gorge to the village of Asomatos.

In Asomatos follow the Hapimag signs. Turn left until you reach the village of Lefkogia. Drive through the village of Lefkogia and turn left towards Damnoni at the Hapimag sign about 2 km further on. The Hapimag resort is located around 500 m further on.

From Chania Airport:

Drive around 6 km towards Chania and then turn left towards Souda (small sign). Continue through Souda until you reach the Chania-Rethymnon main road. Drive towards Rethymnon (eastwards) until you reach the sign for Spili (around 65 km). Then continue as described above in the section on travelling from Heraklion Airport.
