Getting there

From Edinburgh Airport by tram, bus and taxi:

Please follow the signs to the airport tram (number 7 on the airport map) around 300 m in front of the arrivals terminal. Tickets must be bought in advance from the ticket machines, which only accept cash or card payments. A single ticket costs £5.50 and a return £8.50 for adults. Departures to the town centre go from both platforms.

The Airlink 100 bus is an alternative to the tram (number 6 on the airport map). A single ticket costs £4.50 and a return £7.50 for adults. Tickets can be obtained from the counter by the bus stop.

With both the bus and tram, get off at Haymarket. On the opposite side of the road to the tram stop, the same side as the bus stop, follow Clifton Terrace, then West Maitland Street on the left-hand side in the direction of the tram or bus for 250 m. Turn left into Palmerston Place. You should then see St Mary's Cathedral with three towers about 150 m in front of you on the right-hand side of the road. Follow Palmerston Place on the right-hand side of the road for 400 m and take the second right to Rothesay Place. Cross the street to the left-hand side and after 50 m keep left and turn into Rothesay Terrace. Follow this street for 150 m to number 7 on the left-hand side and the entrance to the Hapimag resort.

If you prefer to take a taxi, this will cost about £20.- and takes about 20 minutes from the airport to the hotel. You can find taxis opposite the terminal on the ground floor of the parking area (number 1 on the airport map). Most taxis also accept credit cards, but it is best to check with the driver first.

Follow the A1 towards the city centre. After about 3.7 km, turn left into Milton Road. After another 3.7 km, turn left into London Road.
